

To our valued professional community of clients, colleagues, and teaming partners:

The Rincon Consultants team is adapting daily as these unprecedented events unfold surrounding the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. First and foremost, we are committed to the safety, health, and well-being of our team members, clients, and communities. We continue to work diligently to support your mission-critical activities to keep communities supplied with necessary services and infrastructure such as water, gas, and electricity. We are committed as well to preserving future planning efforts that will allow us to recover and get back to normal once the emergency response period is over.

If you need support for file sharing, remote database management, or alternative approaches to outreach events or public meetings, please contact us. We have great, tested approaches about how to meet your needs for public meetings, presentations, or even interviews remotely.

Our goal is to keep our workforce healthy and to be available for our clients as the response to the pandemic accelerates. My hope is that we collectively lean in together, collaborate, learn, and become stronger and more resilient.

Best regards,

John F. Dreher Jr.

President/CEO

Our proactive approach helps ensure our client and project needs are met in partnership with us as we support solutions to every situation during this unprecedented time. This approach features the following aspects:

BUSINESS CONTINUITY

Our extensive remote work platform positions the Rincon team to continue meeting the needs of our clients.

CLIENT SUPPORT

We understand that our clients have experienced disruption. We are working diligently with each of our clients to understand how their business practices have been adjusted or modified so we may better assist during this unparalleled time.

PROBLEM SOLVING

We are getting creative on the home front as we adapt to the shelter in place order. Professionally, we are adapting to stay on track. Our Rincon team members are problem solvers by nature and finding innovative ways to help you stay on track is one of our top priorities.
